- ❖ Strictly for the information of other Auckland orienteers, the Auckland orienteering newsletter editor publishes annually the contact details of club members who consent to this. Do you give your consent? Yes / No
- ❖ Orienteers often encounter potential hazards - pits, fences, low branches, slippery logs, roads etc. Terrain features are marked on maps and attention may be drawn to particular hazards at an event. By participating, you acknowledge such hazards as a normal part of orienteering and agree to exercise due care.
- ❖ Orienteering events are labour intensive and depend on people assisting in a range of tasks. To spread the load, club members attending AOC-organised events are asked to make themselves available for a duty.
