- ❖ Strictly for the information of other Auckland orienteers, a list is published annually of contact details of club members who consent to this. Do you give your consent? Yes / No
- ❖ Orienteers often encounter potential hazards - pits, fences, low branches, slippery logs, roads etc. Terrain features are marked on maps and attention may be drawn to particular hazards at an event. By participating, you acknowledge such hazards as a normal part of orienteering and agree to exercise due care.
- ❖ Orienteering events are labour intensive and depend on people assisting in a range of tasks. To spread the load, club members attending AOC organised events are asked to make themselves available for a duty.
